I am using the code sub string(@a,start,length) {. want to use it on an Excel file. A: A couple of things you are doing that are redundant and make your code a lot less efficient. You are using %m at the start of every line and are using $ at the end of every line, both of which mean "start at the beginning of the line". Instead, you should be using something like sub string(@a,start,length) {. want to use it on an Excel file. $len = length($a) for($i = 1; $i
